
A layout file is a handoff artifact; a working chip requires manufacturing and validation.